CLASS HISTORY

Well, schoolmates, in just a short time our days at Mattituck High will be over. We'll each go our way to various jobs, colleges, and out into life. No matter what may be in store for us, we'll always cherish the many happy memories we've shared together as the Class of '47. Now, this isn't supposed to be a sob story. It's just a reminder of some of the events which have taken place during the past twelve years--events which, in the years to come, will prove very dear to us. By the way, do you realize that we are the only class graduating from M.H.S. who started First Grade in the new school? In other words, we were the first First Grade. We are the first ones to enjoy the full use of this wonderful school.

Yes, we've had some great experiences. Remember the fun we had during the noon hours back in First Grade? We used to be scared to death of Mr. Wormley, and would hide behind a door or in any convenient crevice whenever we saw him patroling the halls. I don't know what we were afraid of. Then, we'd go into the Second Grade where Mrs. Reeve let us write on the boards. (Something Miss Morris didn't allow.)

In Second Grade we made up our own class song, with Miss King's assistance, of course. The words were "The parade! The parade! The parade is in town! There's a clown upside-down. There are cages all around." Wasn't that brilliant?

We breezed through the Third and Fourth Grades with a minimum of difficulties, and, with the help of two fine teachers, Mrs. Kramer and Miss Warner, proceeded to Mrs. Lindsay's Fifth Grade. Here we made crepe paper flowers, among other things. Some of us still have the pink roses we made, although they are rather faded.

How grown up we felt when we went upstairs to Seventh Grade! Miss Schmidt had her hands full.

When we drew Miss Paterson for a teacher, we calmed down a bit. If we didn't behave, we were kept after school to do the deep knee bend.

Our spirit was by no means broken by the time we reached high school. Freshman year, we spent in getting acquainted with our new classmates from Oregon, Cutchogue, Sound Avenue, and Laurel. We were beginning to realize the value of Mr. McCaw's frequent lectures, which we began to hear for the first time in his homeroom. Our boys went out for sports, and many of them made the team. Remember how proud we were of the Jay Vees that year? Joyce, Lois and Dawn started cheerleading then, too. "Doc" presided over the class.

Let's see. What eventful thing happened Sophomore year? Oh, yes, Miss Sheff came to town! Need we say any more? Jack Van and Doris Wilsberg were our respective homeroom presidents.

Mr. Heller had us for a headache, as well as for a homeroom Junior year. Bud Bergmann, an up and coming executive, was our president. We can't forget the jazz orchestra we had for assembly. We played "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows", "I Can't Begin To Tell You" and "Helena Polka". Wasn't it fun decorating for the Junior Prom, with "The Toy Shop" as the theme?

Some of our happiest memories center around Mr. Williams and the music department. Our eight o'clock Band, Orchestra and Glee Club rehearsals resulted in some fine musical programs.

There's so much to tell about our Senior year that it's hard to know where to begin. "Pete" Sabat was president, the girls started a bowling club, several Veterans came back to join the class as Seniors or P.G.'s, Dave Warren and George Pappas took Solid Geometry and passed the regents in January, Mr. Gilchrist got married, Mr. Clingen's son, Terry, was born, the Minstrel Show was a howling success, we presented the play, "Junior Miss" and our story could go on and on, but time's running short. We're graduating!

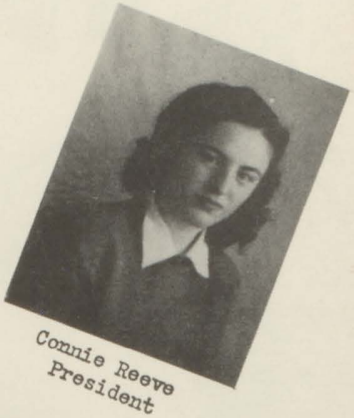
ACTIVITIES



Connie Reeve
President

BAND

Under the able guidance of Mr. Williams and Drum Major, Doris Wilsberg, the Band participated in the annual Spring festival, a concert held in Riverhead, and the Memorial Day parade. This year the Junior and Senior Band merged together.

Virginia Tuthill
President

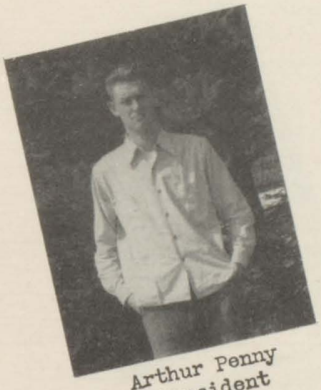
ORCHESTRA

Under the able direction of Mr. Williams, the Orchestra has accomplished the favorite piece "Deep Purple". The performances in which it participated were the annual Christmas program, the Senior Play, the Spring Concert; and it ended a busy year at the graduation exercises.

Lucy Popleski
Secretary

GLEE CLUB

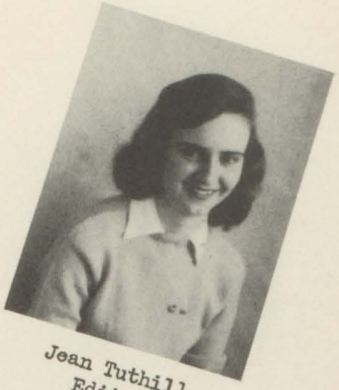
The mixed Glee Club made three appearances this year, namely, Christmas caroling; the Spring concert in which the featured number was Shubert's Ave Maria: and lastly, at the Baccalaureate Service. The President was David Warren.



Arthur Penny
President

MALE CHORUS

The Mattituck High School male chorus, renowned around the North Fork and under the direction of Mr. Williams, has participated in the Teachers' Conference at Greenport, the Parent-Teachers meeting at Cutchogue, the Christmas Carols and at the very successful Minstrel Show.



Jean Tuthill
Editor

PRESS CLUB

The Press Club which publishes the school paper, "Mattitalk", had a large and efficient staff. Under the leadership of Jean Marie Tuthill and Associate Editors Vera Adams and Trudy Furman, the paper had a very successful year. Both the Reflector Staff and the Press Club enjoyed the annual dinner at the end of the term.
