The Senior Class of 2002 dedicates this yearbook to you in recognition of and appreciation for your unrelenting support throughout the years. Your wisdom and constant encouragement have made you more than a guidance counselor; you, Mrs. Ackermann, are our mentor and friend.

Students who have been fortunate to have you as a guidance counselor appreciate all you've done for us. Whether it's advising Interact, hosting awesome picnics, "reminding" us of Senior Profile deadlines, you're someone we can count on. We should add that students are not the only ones that frequent your office — our parents know you well and respect you. You continue to lessen their fears about us, by putting their concerns into perspective. We thank you for that too! By the way, knowing your door is always open (even after 2:30 PM) has always meant a lot to us as well as your willingness to help; and we will be deeply indebted to you long after graduation.

It will be difficult to see you go, but we want you to remember we're "behind" you and support you as you take on new and exciting endeavors. We've witnessed your strength and determination when faced with difficult challenges; you are an inspiration to us all. We wish you the best, Mrs. Ackermann, now and always!

Your warm spirit and sincerity have captured our hearts. We thank you for your never-ending support and all the wonderful memories; we will carry them in our hearts forever. You're more than A-K; you're everyone's strength.

With Much Love and Gratitude,
The Class of 2002

So much has changed since that horrible day.
Thousands of people lost the ones they love.

What can we do, and what is there to say?
Reaching, searching for something up above;
“Ground Zero” sounds like part of a war zone.

Maybe it’s not real, just an awful dream;
In school, not knowing, feeling so alone.
Daily problems, not as big as they seem,
Living so close, feeling it in our hearts.
The skyline has sure changed, but not the place.
Too many perished, and lives torn apart,
New York, still beautiful and lined with lace;
We, the small class of Two-Thousand-and-Two,
Will never forget the year we went through.

I leave you feelings of pure happiness and only the best of times. I leave you thoughts of dinner at Wendy's and dinner at Portabello's. Times of distress and times of absolute emotional release. I leave you my mind, because of emotional and mental support, my body, because I'm dead sexy, I put the gr in swinger, baby, and my soul, because love is more fragile than a snowflake but ours is stronger than gold and I love you. One last thing, I leave you a treasured possession, my Ace Ventura 2 video. PG: Had some good times in the classes that we were in together. Fat Jack, I leave you great moments in Physics and fun times in baseball. AK: I leave you with this one thought: "When I first came here, this was all swamp. Everyone said I was draft to build a castle on a swamp, but I built it all the same, just to show them. It sank into the swamp. So I built a second one. And that one sank into the swamp. So I build a third. That burned down, fell over, and then sank into the swamp. But the fourth one stayed up. And that's what you're going to get, son, the strongest castle in all of England." Moral of this, even if you get deferred or when life gets you down because you're not Valedictorian, just keep on thinking "To be, or not to be."

e n d u r i n g FREEDOM

Tuesday, September 11, 2001, will be remembered as a tragic day that changed the world. That morning, a plot, masterminded by terrorist Osama bin Laden and the al-Qaeda network, was put into action. Two hijacked commercial airliners were flown into New York City's World Trade Center Towers, ultimately causing their collapse. Immediately following the incident, another hijacked airliner crashed into one side of the Pentagon in Washington, D.C, and a fourth plane crashed in Pennsylvania. Thousands of lives were lost, citizens were terrified and the world was in shock.

Following that mournful day the United States experienced anthrax scares, continued security threats and the reality of war. Despite the horror, fear and heartache, U.S. citizens united and their patriotic spirit soared. President Bush promised: "We will not tire, we will not falter, we will not fail." Through that statement and the remarkable sense of national pride exuded by U.S. citizens, it became evident that no threat, great or small, could deter the United States resolve for enduring freedom.

In response to the shocking tragedy, President George W. Bush addresses the nation offering strength, comfort and patriotism.

Ailing airlines urge citizens to defy terrorists' attempts to disrupt lives by reboarding airplanes.

Thousands of people world-wide donate blood and volunteer their services to aid U.S. recovery.

An overwhelming spirit of unity and national pride arises out of the smoldering ashes and human devastation from the September 11 attacks on the United States.
