Oh, the PLACES
we've been!

Dedication

For the past twelve years we have attended school to absorb knowledge which we have continually applied to our lives. We have learned many things, from the ABC's to the mean value theorem, but perhaps no lesson has been more indispensable than this teacher's. With ease he taught us about subjects our parents approached with a slight feeling of uneasiness. He, first, enlightened us as 7th graders with the facts about the birds and the bees and as we got older dealt with drug abuse, the negative effects of alcohol and how to lead a healthy life style.

However, his dedication is not only seen in the classroom, but on the track as well. Once outside he immediately becomes "Coach", constantly pushing and driving yet always encouraging his team. Whether it means lending out his running shoes or feeding us bagels- keeping his students healthy, fit, and happy are his ultimate goals.

Resulting from his devotion, Mattituck's undefeated track and cross-country teams have acquired a long list of achievements which could very aptly read as a Nike commercial. In appreciation for the perseverance, knowledge, and wisdom of this teacher, coach, and friend, we the senior class, proudly dedicate the 1993 Reflector "Oh, the Places We've Been" to

Mr. James Underwood.

Student Life

Student life. Sometimes that phrase is a contradiction unto itself. Life in teenagers begins at 2:30 when they walk out the front doors into the fresh air or out onto whatever athletic field or court they play upon depending on the season. However sometimes, once in a while the students of this fine institution do come to life.

Once in a while students are seen deep in thought during class intently pondering the wonders being taught by their teacher. Occasionally in lab class there is an explosion heard created by an overzealous lab student. Or even sometimes a truant student will be seen running through the halls in vain effort to get to class on time.

However, even with the seemingly only occasional alertness of the student body, those periods of energy are filled with creativeness and effort. As seen from the artwork in the halls to the bulletin board filled with newspaper clippings recounting various student accomplishments to the trophy cases filled to the brim from the efforts of countless outstanding athletes from over the years.

To the untrained eye Mattituck students might appear sleepy at times but when we do wake up - watch out because we as a united student body can accomplish wondrous feats. (Sometimes!)

AIDS Awareness

October and November were designated as Aids Awareness months as part of a tri-ad Student Awareness program. Headed by junior Helen Coster there were posters dealing with AIDS facts hung throughout the halls, as well as daily AIDS facts read over the PA every morning. Emily Varga, an AIDS patient, was brought to the high school in a moving assembly in which she spoke frankly on the horrors of AIDS. As a thankyou to Emily for her efforts a successful fundraising campaign was initiated to gather money and clothing for her because she has had financial problems since the onset of her illness.

Save Our Earth

Phase two of this student awareness program entailed getting the students of MHS involved with their environmental community. Our earth awareness campaign coordinator, Tracy Dubovick, with help from her committee, flooded the halls with earth facts and shocking statistics such as "the Amazon Rainforest is destroyed at three acres a minute." Paul Stoutenburg and Greg Rivera came as guest speakers to educate students and faculty on local environmental issues facing Long Islanders today. An art fashion show was organized in which students created biodegradable outfits and the semi-formal which occurred during this phase of the program was fashioned around an environmental theme to promote further awareness.

Stop DWI

For the months of May and June Josh Gaffga and Nancy Harned ran the third and final phase of this campaign: Drunk Driving Awareness . Posters with horrifying pictures and statistics donned the halls and a wrecked car was placed in front of the school as a sobering reminder to all what can happen if you drink and drive. There was also an assembly by the Long Island Mental Health Players who role played with a drinking and driving message. In conjunction with SADD fliers were handed out reminding students of the consequences. May and June were chosen because with the prom and graduation happening this was the perfect opportunity to remind students of the dangers of driving drunk.

Variety Show

Live From the North Fork...was Mattituck Night !!!

The joyous voices of Courtney Cook, Ryan Nichols, and Jill Schneider, the show's producers were heard as 59th Annual Variety Show lit up the stage on November 19, 20, and 21.

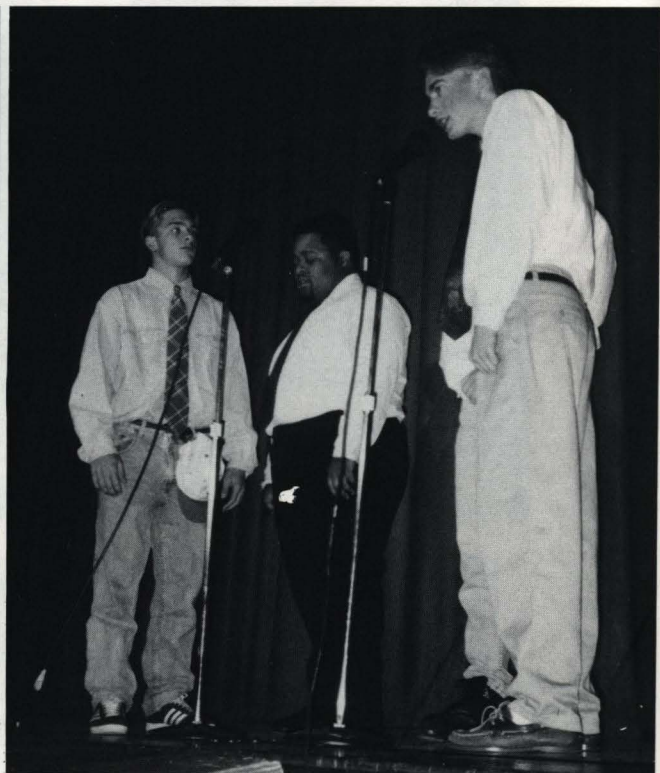

Based upon a Saturday Night Live motif the show was a huge success parodying various skits including Sprockets, Waynes World, Cone Heads, and the news. Of course the show was also resplendid with numerous singing and dancing acts all of which were exceptional from club style to dancing ketchup bottles; the show had it all. Including a rendition of "Hail Mattituck" by our resident singing sensations Smooth Harmony. The show completed with the Senior Class singing an emotional version of "We Are the Champions".

The shows tremendous success would never have been achieved without the help of many behind the scenes people. Special thanks go out to the light crew, AV club, Art club, faculty, NJROTC, and last but certainly not least, Mr. Verity.

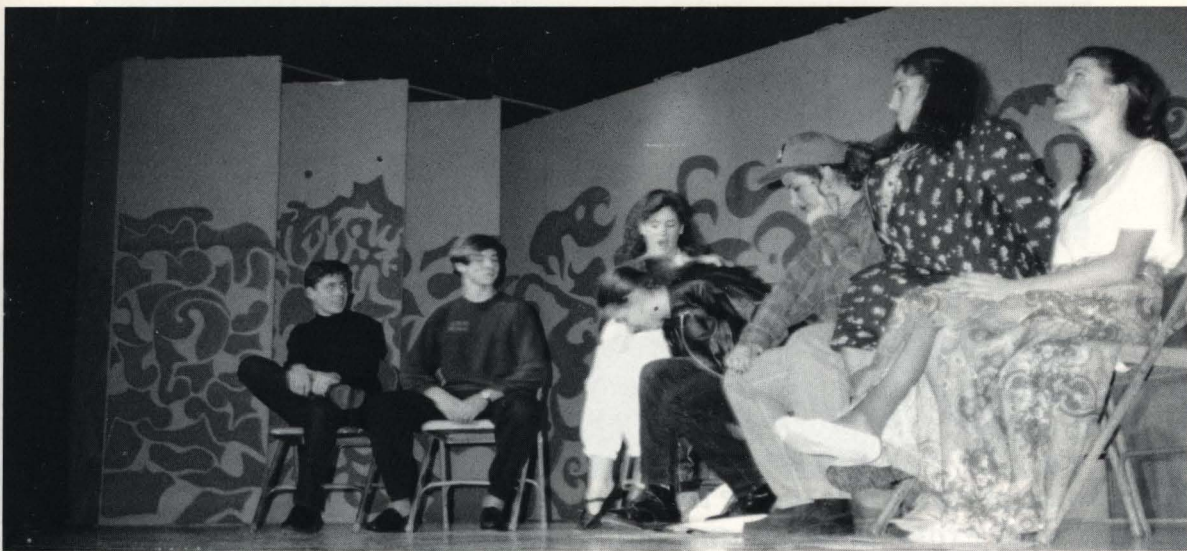

...Stay tuned for next year when the shows wacky traditions will be carried on by its three new producers: Matt Addonizio, Sean Corrigan, and Kirsten Wheaton. -- Good Luck to all!

Almost Paradise

Almost Paradise was the theme of this years semi-formal held on February 9th. Despite the snowstorm raging on outside, inside was hot and steamy. With a tropical rainforest theme the gym was filled with exotic animals and palm trees and the center of attention was a 7 ft. high waterfall strewn with lights and surrounded by rocks and an alligator that looked lifelike. Students danced away the night with DJ Digons manning the turntables. The evening was, as usual, and enormous success and all students who attended agreed the decorating committee outdid themselves from the murals to the animals to the trademark canopy ceiling done in green and blue. Thanks to all who helped make this a wonderful evening!

Spirit Week

This year spirit month turned into spirit week due to a lack of time in the busy schedule here at MHS. The week seemed rather placid as compared to previous years. The Senior Syndicate seemed a little lax, the Jamaican Juniors did have a few spirited students, and the Disney Sophomores were also relatively quiet. The Freshmen "Back in Time" stole the week with their Bill and Ted theme.

The rally was moved to Friday night originally, however, due to a snowstorm the evening was again postponed to the following Thursday evening. The weather and the business of the students seemed to put a damper on the festivities. The rally was calm, very uncharacteristic for MHS. Talks were held about changing the whole format for spirit week next year. But, those that really gave it their all this year, like the Freshmen, were rewarded for their efforts. Until next year then, in the spirit of the winning class- party on dudes!

Theatre

A new class was added to the roster for the '92-'93 school year called Theatre. This class was taught with approach of getting students over the fear of embarrassment and learning to let loose. In this half year course there was a required midterm and final project entailing acting out a scene from your favorite movie, to standup comedy, to designing a costume. The one requirement was that whatever the student chose effort was put in to make your project stylish and expressive. The final exam involved the whole class putting on a play. "Our Town" was chosen because of the variety of characters. Students who pioneered this class agreed it is an experience no one should miss. It required courage and energy but is an unforgettable experience.

Junior Prom

The Prom. The very words send hearts a flutter and minds to flight with visions of the perfect evening. Prince Charming shows up on your doorstep dressed to kill and the first words out of his mouth are "Sorry I'm a little late but the filming of "Top Gun" was a little behind schedule today. Ah yes, wouldn't it be nice. Unfortunately though, Tom Cruise is married.

The Class of '93 held their Junior Prom at the Holiday Inn in Riverhead. And, even though no one showed up with Tom Cruise, and the track team members were late and the limos were crowded and it was freezing out, the prom was a success. Two hundred people descended into the lower level of the hotel where parents and teachers had decorated the room with purple and pink. The food was better than previous years and as usual the music, courtesy of Mr. Digons, was great. So even with all of the hang ups and usual prom anxiety eventually, everyone arrived looking wonderful, tired, some slightly inebriated, but otherwise content. As the years go on and the insignificant worries you had and problems you encountered on that day fade away; most all will remember the night of May 5, 1992 with a smile as the Class of '93 danced away the night to Journey's "Faithfully".

Remember when...

Remember when things were simple. When you used to wake up early that first day of school and charge out the door to the awaiting yellow bus filled with joy at the prospect of a new teacher and more friends and eating in the school cafeteria . Everything was fresh and exciting and attacked with boundless energy. When mom bought your clothes and birthday parties consisted of everyone in your class. When words like drugs, sex and alcohol weren't in our word bank. Remember when they showed us "the movie" in fifth grade and things started to change. The differences between boys and girls became more evident and school dances were boys on one side, girls on the other.

Now, in our last year we have to look back and recall those days: some with laughter and smiles and others with tears. Now we are faced with countless decisions: things as trivial as what to wear today and others that will affect us for the rest of our lives.

Nowadays, most mornings it's an effort to drag yourself out of bed in the morning and run out to your car to speed off to your first period class. Now, just for a moment it's time to relax, sit back and remember when...

...the famous Laurel pyramid was formed?

...ice cream birthday cakes ?

...we were under the sea?

...we were skater dudes?

...we all went to Josh's Barmitzvah ?

With Hope for the Promise of a New Day

The onset of 1993 brought many new changes. For one, our country swore in a new President. On January 20, 1993 at exactly 12:00 noon citizens all over the country tuned in to watch Bill Clinton become the 42nd President of the United States. President Clinton has brought hope to many Americans with promises of economic relief through social programs reforming health care, environmental policies, and the educational system. All these factors affect each and every one of us. However, the beginning of this new administration and year also brings to mind the realization that as seniors, this is the year we are leaving. We're off to new places and new adventures with new people. Hopefully, it will be a good year for all. A year of learning and facing challenges and proving we are ready to show America what we are capable of real accomplishment.

With the seriousness of all these realizations though, I hope that no one loses sight or forgets the warm environment of this building. With all the ups, downs, ins, outs and arounds, Mattituck High School is a decent place to have received an education. And so as hope for the future and the years to come, on graduation day as we are turned loose on the world, hold to memory this simple message spoken so eloquently by poet Maya Angelou on the dawn of another new day:

*Here on the pulse of this new day
You may have the grace to look up and out and into your sisters eyes, into your brother's face, your country
And say simply Very simply
With hope
Good Morning.*

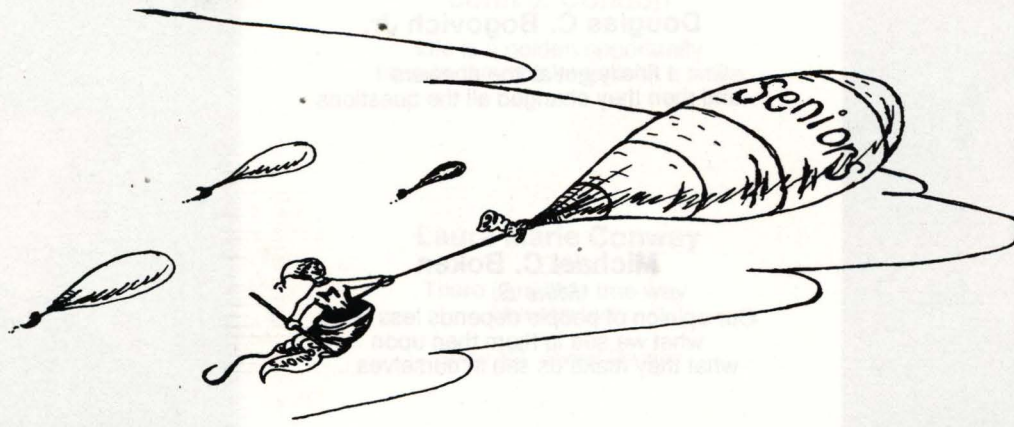

Congratulations!

Today is our day.
We're off to great places!
We're off and away!

A Day In the Life of a Senior...

Garet and Stacey on their quest for knowledge.

Who can that be in disguise?

Chris Meyer and Val Kauniste- a little too friendly perhaps?!

Scott Cooper contemplating life.

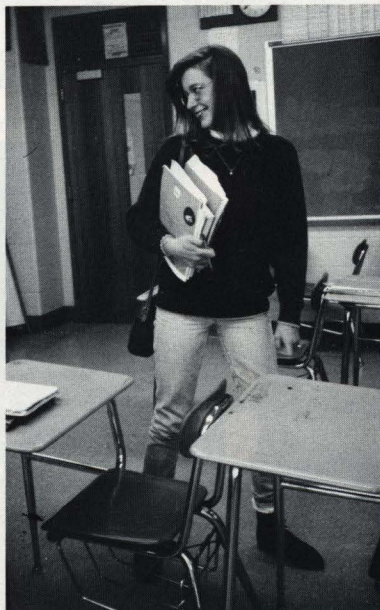

Miranda, Chris, and Tim sharing quality time together.

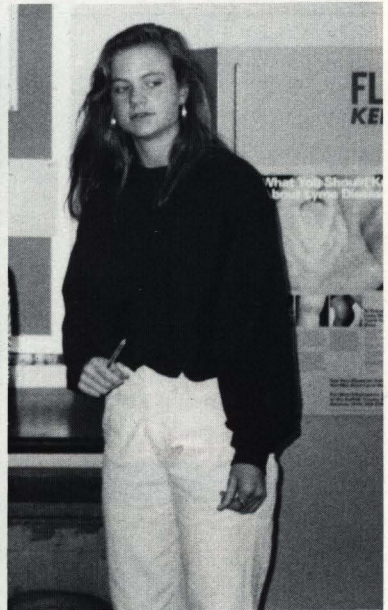

Just exactly what Eric, Mark, and Travis are doing I'm not exactly sure.

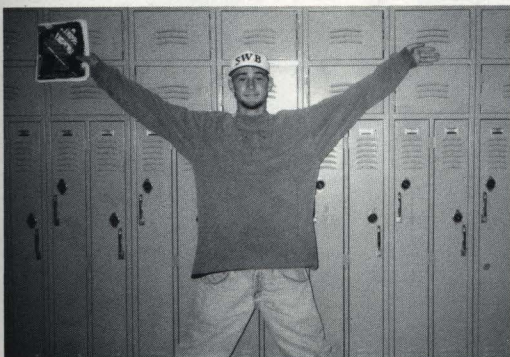

"Les Oiseaux"

A studious Karen

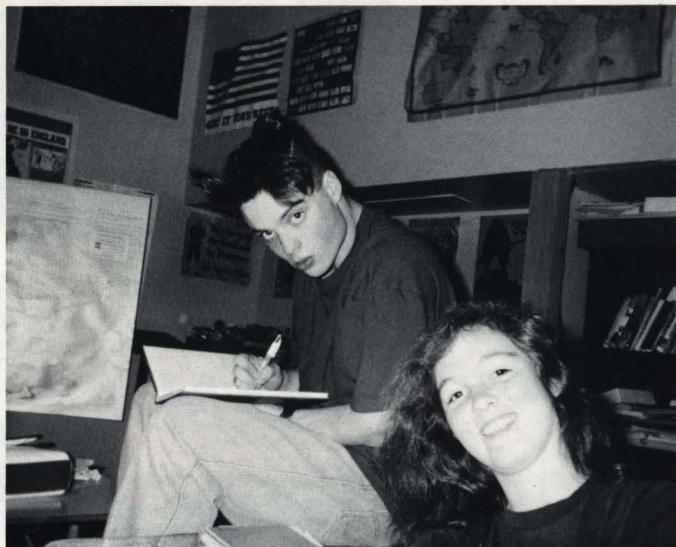

A pensive Jenn

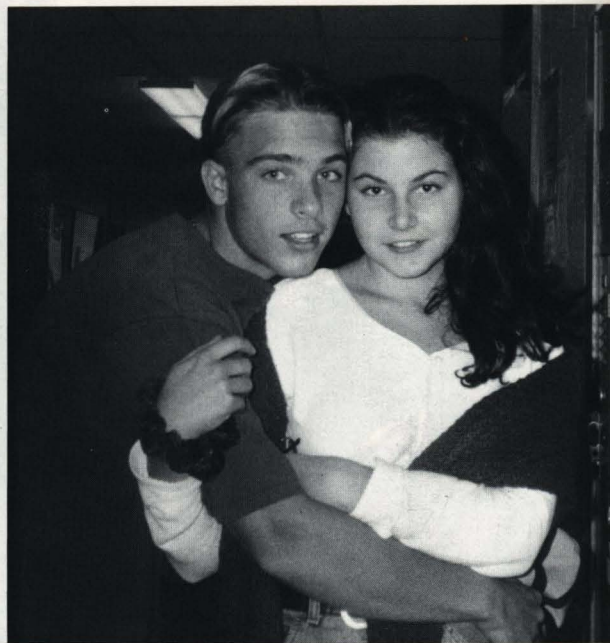

Josh is revealed

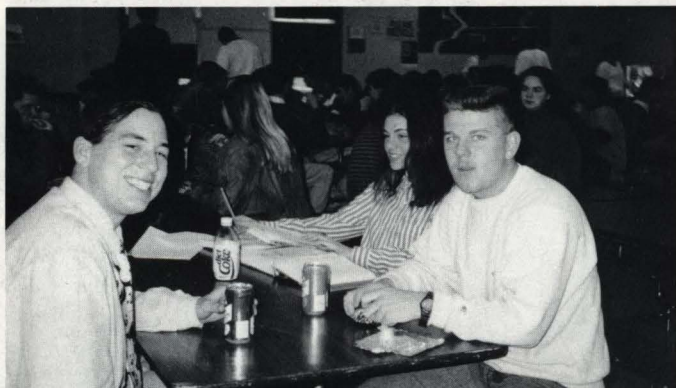

While eating a nutritious meal Gareth and Craig engage in a battle of ships.

Cheer up Peter you're graduating!

Devon and Kristen voted as best looking in the senior poll.

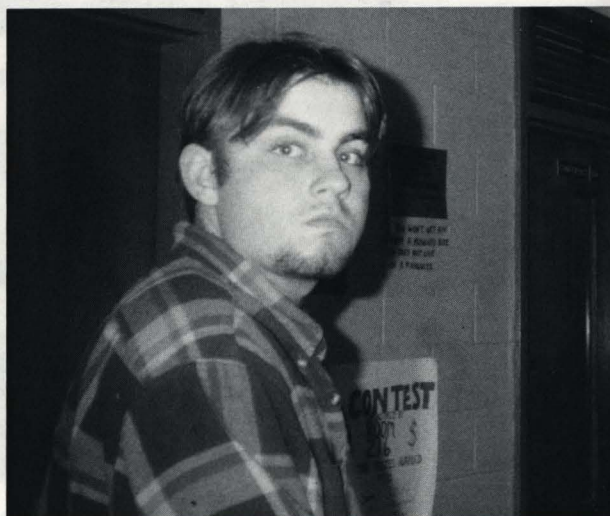

Ryan and Kevin living it up in the cafeteria.

What's going on there Kevin?

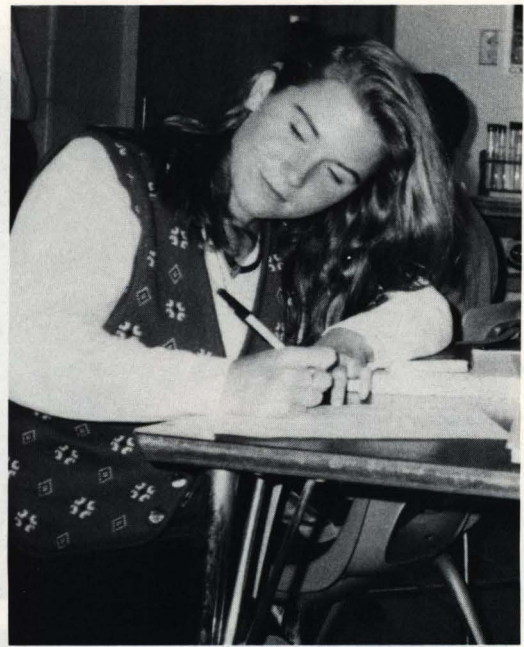

Traci and Carolyn relaxing in english class.

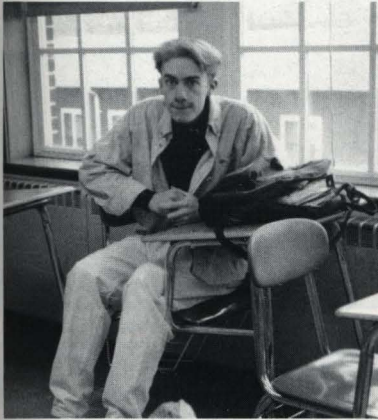

It's OK, you don't have to smile Jim.

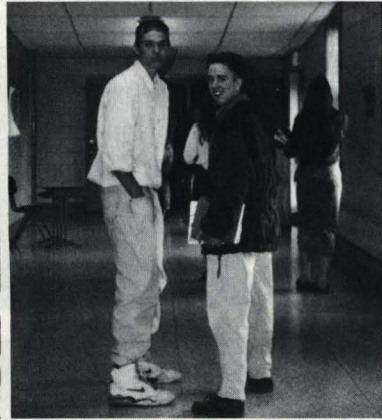

A pyramid of senior girl soccer players posing for various cameras.

Jessica deep in thought over Bio.

C'mon Josh she wore it- now say it!

Do you two have a pass?

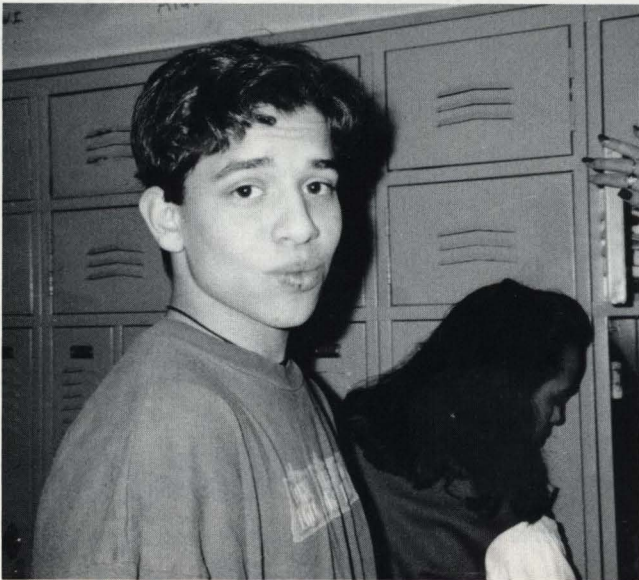

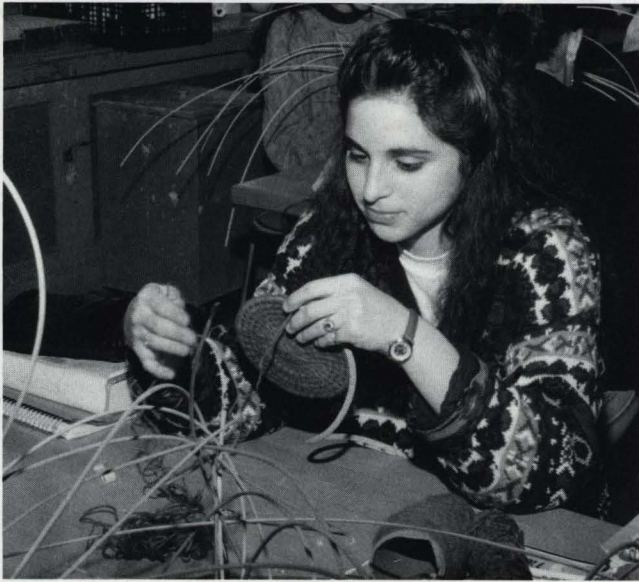

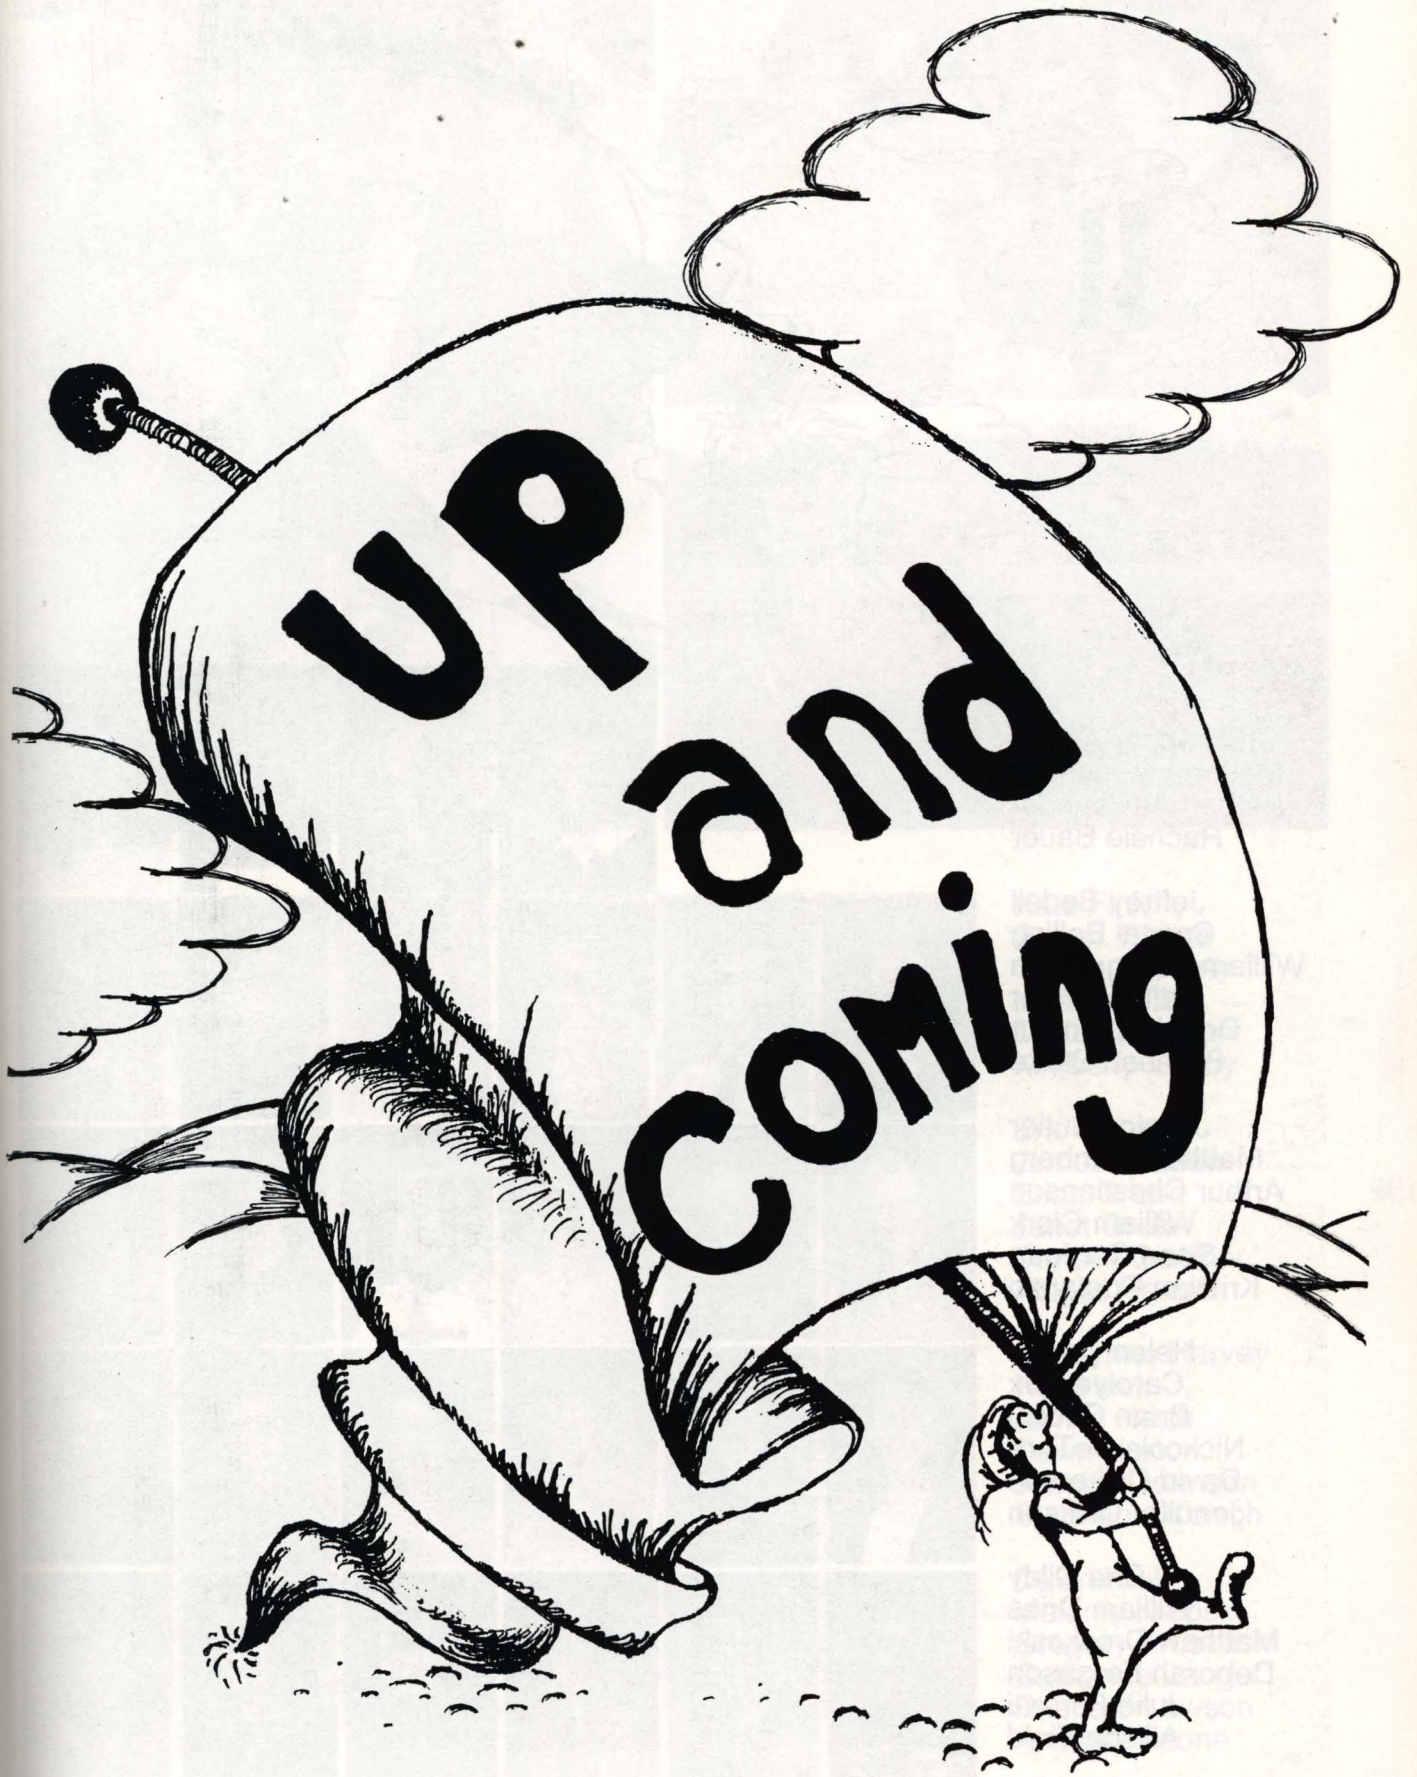

Fancy earrings you have there Dr. Harned!

Hey Mark, how are you doing? You wanna wake up!

Hats Off ?

A big issue this year in school has been one concerning the wearing of hats indoors. Apparently, the administration feels it is disrespectful, distracting, etc., etc. However, the student body obviously feels otherwise. Defying the no hat rule has become quite the fashion. Guys and girls alike have been donning hats from all walks of life. An organization was even formed to fight for the student's rights to wear hats. The O.S.S.R. , shortly before Christmas plotted to have a National Hat Day. Propaganda was handed out urging students to defy the rule and wear a hat. Around 2:15 on the eve of National Hat Day, the administration came over the P.A. and announced that as a Christmas present to the student body, they were permitting all students and faculty alike to wear hats the following day. And so for one day students legally wore their hats with pride and the administration took a day off from patrol. And for the New Year though... Welcome back! Take off that new hat! And so the battle continued. Pictured below are some of the many brave students who risk scolding to pay tribute to their favorite team.

Cadets Miceli and Macomber in ROTC hats.

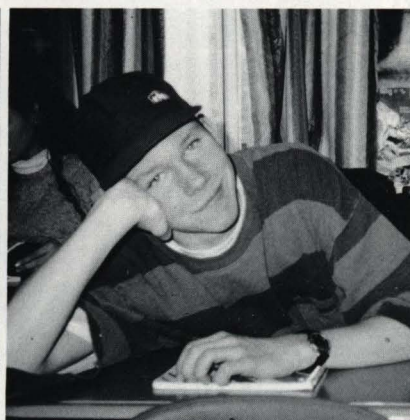

Sammy caught with a hat on.

Basketball spectators donning their hats.

Brian Shelton relaxing in a hat.

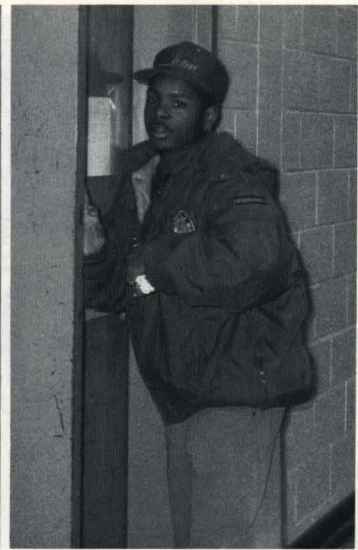

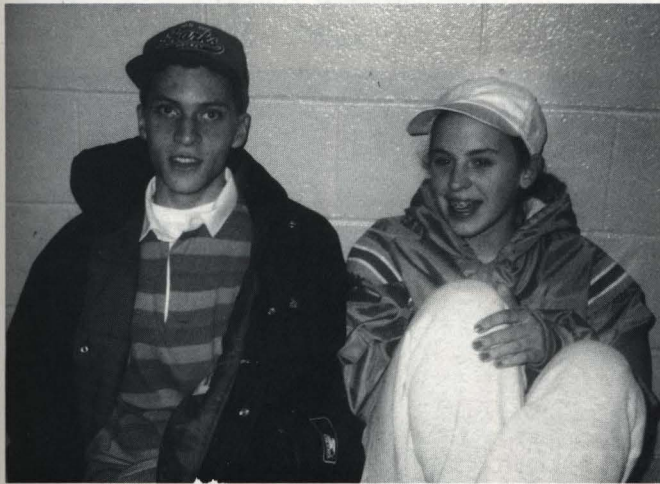

Mike Bishal strolling in a hat.

Dennis Horton modeling his hat.

Tim Simmons trying to escape from being seen with his hat on.

Craig Metoyer and Sarah Volinski a hatted couple.

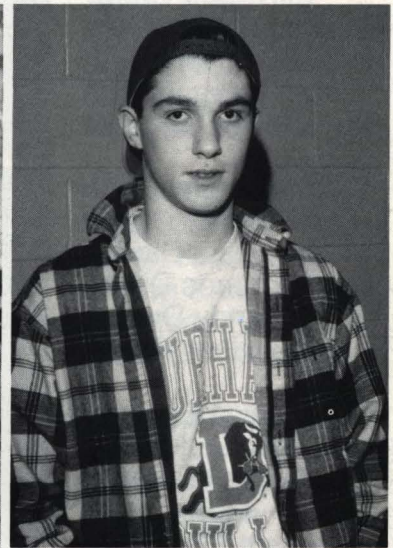

Mike -where's your hat?

George Weiser in a multi-colored hat.

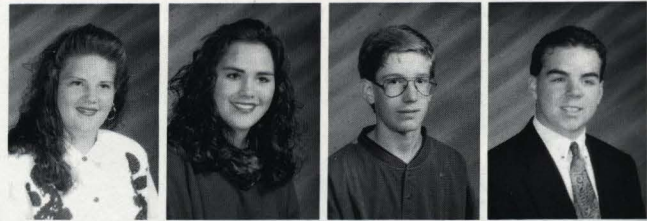

Stacey Dempsey and Lori Miska -in military hats?!

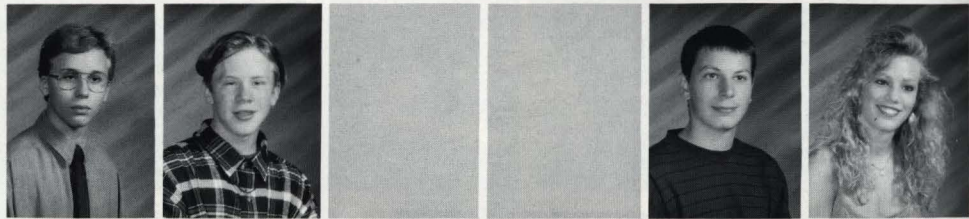

Chris Yousik breaks the mold and wears his hat backwards.

NJROTC

This year the NJROTC unit has been very busy with community and regular unit activities. Playing games at The San Simeon nursing home, ushering, color guard and the military ball, are just a few. Trips this year included Boot Camp in Cape May, N.J., Pensacola, Fla. and Charleston, South Carolina. Also the unit has gone to two competitions where they competed in the unit drill team, female drill team, unit basic and color guard categories, and several trophies were brought back.

From the Editor:

I'm not really sure when everyone will be reading this because I don't know when the book is actually going to come out; all I know is that I am finally finished! I would like to thank a small but very special group of people. My Mom and Dad for putting up with me and sacrificing the dining room table to pictures and layout sheets, Tracy, Megan, Craig, and Mike for remaining true friends, Gabe for all of his wonderful artwork and his perverse sense of humor, my teachers for letting me be absent from class for weeks at a time, Mrs. Grattan for listening to me rant and rave, and Mr. Cortese for all of the long hours he put in manning the computer.

I sincerely hope with all my heart that everyone, teachers, students, and parents alike have fun with this book and appreciate its lighthearted theme. So to the readers: sit back, relax, smile, laugh, reminisce over, and most of all enjoy "Oh, the Places We've Been".

And so finally, on a closing note (before I finally fall asleep), I'd like to end with a quote from the late, great Dr. Suess:

Today is gone. Today was fun.
Tomorrow is another one.
Every day,
From here to there,
funny things are everywhere.

Thanks again to all.

Sincerely,

Amanda J. Abate
