

Welcome to Mattituck

TIME and ...

Class of 2010... It is Just the Beginning

Dedication

Every day of school we walk into a spotless building with sparkling floors and shiny desks. This beautiful school is surrounded by well manicured lawns and gardens. Although there are many people responsible for these tasks there is one person who stands out to the Class of 2010.

Rodney has made a major impact on the lives of Mattituck High School students. His positive outlook is demonstrated by his genuine care, interest, and concern for the students and staff. Rodney's friendly and cheerful demeanor is contagious.

Rodney has always been known as the "cool janitor" who helps to make Mattituck High School interesting. While Rodney's dedication to his job is first and foremost, he always demonstrates an interest in what is important to the students. Rodney has a knack for making everyone feel important.

From cleaning up a spill in the cafeteria, mowing the front lawn, or even taking one for the team, Rodney helps to make Mattituck High School the best place possible. His integrity is a model for all to follow. It is the Class of 2010's great honor to dedicate our yearbook to Rodney Shelby.

Retirements

Whether he is educating us on the difference between mitosis and meiosis or showing his wrestlers the perfect sleeper's hold, David Darrow has always been and will always be a huge contributor to the lives of Mattituck students. Having been at our school for 34 years, Mr. Darrow has seen the best and worst of the students, but he has never stopped being a funny and kind teacher, by bringing stories about his own life into the biology classroom, and making the subject fun and exciting. Mr. Darrow will be missed by all of the students and faculty at Mattituck High School because he is both a great teacher and a great friend.

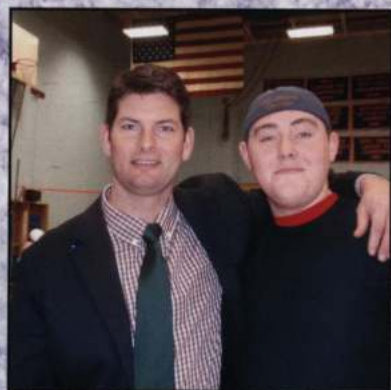

If you show up late to school, if your parent drops something off for you, or if you just need to use the phone, Mrs. Litchhult is a part of every Mattituck student's life. For 21 years, Mrs. Litchhult has been managing the attendance of the students at Mattituck High School. As the greeter of everyone who comes into the school, Mrs. Litchhult's unique and sparkling personality makes getting a lunch detention seem to be not so bad. Her smiling face and great sense of humor will surely be missed by both the students and the faculty at Mattituck High School.

Senior year can be a hectic time for students, but with the help of Mrs. Libretto, college applications and scholarships are much easier. For 24 years, Mrs. Libretto has been working as a secretary in the district. She is always willing to help by finding applications for scholarships, or sending out your transcript and your recommendations. Her dedication to the students creates positive relationships with the students. Mrs. Libretto makes senior year much less stressful. Mattituck High School students and faculty are truly going to miss Mrs. Libretto.

Rube Goldberg 2010

On January 7th, the Physics classes participated in the annual Rube Goldberg contest. They had to make a machine where the golf ball goes in and out of the box through a hole at the same height. The ultimate goal of the project was to "MAKE IT WORK!"

Historian

To The Class of 2010,

Who are we? We are 136 individuals, who at the age of 5 were thrown into the pot known as the Mattituck-Cutchogue School District. We are writers, dancers, athletes, leaders, artists, mathematicians, and most importantly unique. From day one in that little red school house in Laurel, to day 2,340, as we leave Mattituck, we have impacted each other's lives forming a bond that ties us all to the class of 2010.

Throughout our elementary school career, we traversed four different buildings: the Laurel Schoolhouse, Cutchogue West, Mattituck, and Cutchogue East. We were mad scientists growing butterflies and crayfish, mealworms and class pets. We were actors from second grade "water-cycle" plays, to Mrs. Greab and Mrs. Grefe's fourth grade play, to the productions of "The Pirates of Penzance" and "The Wizard of Oz". We exchanged paper valentines in special boxes we had made, and did everything we could to evade the dreaded lunch monitors at the end of recess. Our dreams started early, and our push to "Save The Planet" began with Evan and Amanda's peaceful protest against the removal of the hollow termite ridden tree by the playground. In sixth grade we "ruled the world," taking our first class trip to NYC to see Beauty and the Beast. Our trip to the Bronx Zoo was memorable; including the gondola ride that lasted an hour longer than it should have when the power cut off.

"Moving Up" included our first days of Junior High School. In seventh grade our over-nighter in Boston taught us our history, including a ride on the famous Duck Boats, and in some cases a chance to drive the boat. Eighth Grade brought our class on a trip to Washington DC and our two-night stay in a hotel under construction. Who could ever forget the night we were told to dress up for a "night on the town", and we ended up going to a biker buffet for dinner? The night tour was spectacular, and for some, romance blossomed.

We entered ninth grade, and real High School began. Through new clubs, sports, NJROTC, and electives we began to find our own niche. We built our first homecoming float "Clue," and though we thought it was awesome, we were trampled by upperclassmen. We attended our first semi-formal, took our first Regents, and counted down the days until our first summer of High School. In tenth grade, our homecoming float "The Smurfs," came complete with the theme song and blue people riding on it.

Mr. Schwetje taught us more than we could imagine was possible in Global. Who can forget the UN trip, where it poured as we attempted to enjoy the Seaport; and while putting in a movie, the bus stopped short, and Caty came to the rescue, breaking a surprised Mr. Schwetje's fall. Halfway done with High School, junior year brought the college application process, and introducing the torture of SAT's and ACT's. Spiderman appeared on our homecoming float. Though we couldn't vote, we began to find our political interests in the McCain vs. Obama Presidential Race. America spoke and the first black President in our nation's history was elected. Our prom, Hollywood Nights, at Georgio's, brought out the best in each other, including the dance circle, the misspelling on the cake, and our Prom Court. And finally, SENIOR YEAR! Decorating the school at night before Spirit Week brought our class together. Float building was fun, but unfortunately Rome could not be built in seven days. A tractor ride to school started off Spirit Day with a trip from Sidor's house across the North Road and to the school. Pep Rally brought tug-o-war and a baton performance, by Jack. Our school made headlines in October when we went into lockdown because of a shooting. Along with an awesome snowstorm came a new gym, which took two paint jobs to get the color right. And thanks to ZT, Colin, and Bobby, the Tuckers brought home a win in the gym's first game. There was math with Mr. Deerkoski, and tales of Izzy Smart. In physics with Mr. DeCaro we bounced a bowling ball to prove Kinetic Energy. Mr. Brennan and Ms. Barney taught us about life, and most importantly about each other. As a class we have come together, drifted apart, fallen in and out of love, discovered our interests and our dislikes, and survived the turbulence of High School life. Though we may not all get along, or party together, or play sports, we are a united front; 136 individuals who are now bracing to go our separate ways in the "real world". Some of us are ready, others not so much, but we will all endure. So to the members of the class of 2010, who are you? Who will you be? It is time to write our own stories. Set high expectations and reach for the moon... even if you miss you will land among the stars.

Congratulations... WE MADE IT!

If

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or, being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or, being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;

If you can dream—and not make dreams your master;
If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim;
If you can meet with triumph and disaster
And treat those two imposters just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to broken,
And stoop and build 'em up with worn out tools;

If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the Will which says to them: "Hold on";

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings—nor lose the common touch;
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you;
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run—
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a man, my son.

—Rudyard Kipling

Salutatorian

Laura Stakey

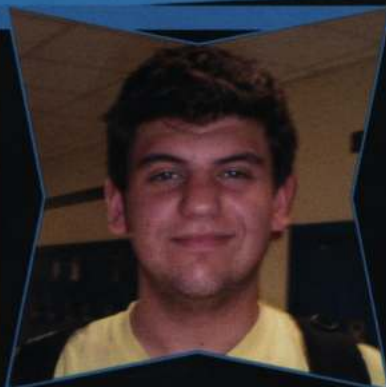

"If the day and the night are such that you greet them with joy, and life emits a fragrance like flowers and sweet-scented herbs, is more elastic, more starry, more immortal — that is your success. All nature is your congratulation, and you have cause momentarily to bless yourself. The greatest gains and values are farthest from being appreciated. We easily come to doubt if they exist. We soon forget them. They are the highest reality. Perhaps the facts most astounding and most real are never communicated by man to man. The true harvest of my daily life is somewhat as intangible and indescribable as the tints of morning or evening. It is a little star-dust caught, a segment of the rainbow which I have clutched."
