everything, the class of 2023,
we will miss you greatly!

Class President's Senior Letter

When I was told that I needed to write a letter to the class I wasn't really sure how to approach it. I mean, how am I supposed to write something meaningful that pertains to every single person looking at me?

The truth is I can't tell you. I cannot possibly capture the essence of each member of our class in this letter because every single one of you is unique. But that's what I love about this class. We are not all the same and for sure do not all like the same things. But what I can tell you is this: we have this connection that we may not even realize is there. We have been together as a class for 13 years, and while it may not have been by choice, we still have been in each other's lives for most of the time we have been on earth. You may not consider every person in our class your "friend", and that's okay, but we know deep down that this class wouldn't be the same without each of us.

On another note, we have been through so much together. We lost a fellow classmate. We lost a friend. We lost one of our own. Losing Ryan was probably one of the most surreal experiences I have ever been through, and I am sure it was like that for all of you as well. However, I didn't have to go through all of that pain alone. I had you guys; we had each other. All of you are the reason we were able to move forward. I like to believe that we as a grade learned a lot from what happened. We learned that life is a beautiful thing, and that we should appreciate what we have because we never know when it could be taken away. We all miss Ryan, and he will always be with us.

Life is a funny thing, and it's a very hard concept to fully understand. But what I can tell you about life is this. You may not know this yet but one day in the future you will reach a low you never knew existed and you will lose yourself. Getting yourself back will become a real challenge, and maybe will be one of the hardest moments of your life. But, spoiler alert, you can get yourself back, you can make it in the end, and you can become even stronger because of it.

The point I'm trying to make is keep going. You may hit rock bottom a few times, but I promise you that there are a thousand reasons why you don't belong there. I found a quote from someone who knows a lot about this subject; his name is Dr. Seuss. "Life is too short to wake up in the morning with regrets. So, love the people who treat you right, forgive the ones who don't and believe that everything happens for a reason. If you get the chance, take it. If it changes your life, let it. Nobody said it would be easy, they just promised it would be worth it". Now, before our time at MHS is done, take a look around. These are the people that will forever be a part of one of the most significant milestones in your life. It's kinda crazy to think that in 10 to 20 years from now, all of us will be leading different lives, but it's also pretty cool at the same time. No matter what you are doing after leaving this building, whether it's going to college, starting a new job, or enlisting in the military, I am so excited for what's to come for all of us.

I know that this is our last summer jumping into our parents pools and driving off for egg sandwiches in the mornings. I know that very soon we will start our new lives and meet new people who make us laugh just as hard. And that's okay. That's just a part of life, but it doesn't diminish all that we've meant to each other over the past 13 years. But I want all of you to always remember that I will never forget how perfectly you fit into my life at one point. I want you guys to promise that you will remember each other forever, and when you one day look back at old photos from Mattituck High School, you will tell your children about us.

Thank you class of 2023, my friends, my classmates. You have made this journey something special.

Dear Ryan,

You have changed so many lives without realizing. Your positive attitude, contagious smile and heart of gold is truly missed. We hope you are proud of where we have come as a community in honor of your name.

We love and miss you dearly, Class of 2023

Senior Class,

It is a privilege to know so many of you. You are a terrific group of people with giant sized hearts. Thank you for your care and your love!

I don't think we are defined by our accomplishments but by our character. Not by what we achieve in the end but rather by what we do for others along the way. Every life has joy and pain because life is a journey. It's meant to be lived through loving others, just like you've shown us. Keep moving forward hopefully and keep lifting each other up.

We love you all. God bless each one of you.

-Mr. & Mrs. Oliver
